STONINGTON

Verdict for Plaintiff in Automobile Damage Suit—Dr. Percy A. Senior Now in Borough—Quarantine Raised in Pawcatuck.

The civil side of the town court of Stonington, Judge Lorenzo D. Fairbrother presiding, was occupied a full court day in hearing the case of Augusta L. Wilcox against the Texas Oil Company. This was an action to recover damages for injury to an automobile owned by the plaintiff by a runaway team of horses owned by the oil company. Plaintiff tried to have the matter adjusted amicably, but the company offered to settle for $25, but would pay no more, informing plaintiff that if that amount were not accepted, and more was expected, that it would not be paid voluntarily. Then suit was instituted. A verdict was given for the plaintiff to recover $150 and costs.

Dr. Percy A. Senior, for eight years located in Westerly, has moved to the borough of Stonington. Miss Helen M. Tuite attended the wedding of Miss Annette Lucy of New London and Frederick Von Liberman of West Virginia in St. Mary's Church of the Sea Church, New London, Tuesday. A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother in Brooks street.

Man With Injured Hand Taken to the Backus Hospital—Change in Pupils' Ticket Books on Shore Line Railway.

Stuffy Rhabdeau, while working around a sawing machine Tuesday cut his hand seriously. He was rushed to the Backus hospital, Norwich, for treatment.

Home from Maine. Lester Salisbury and Edwin Lyons who took a trip to Maine in Mr. Salisbury's car and remained there nearly two weeks, are back at their work. Miss Doris Kitchen, who has been spending the summer in Maine, returned to her home in Moosup recently.

Change in Pupils' Books. The pupils' ticket book used in going to and coming from school on the Shore Line Electric Railway company, have been changed a little from their usual way of rating. Each one dollar book now contains 100 tickets, of which three must be taken to the place of one ticket in a last year's book. The last year's book contained one fare. Where 40 rides could be had last year, only 33 rides could be had this year for the same amount of money. The copper zone system is probably what made the change in the ticket book.

Returns From White Mountains. Eldred Salisbury, who has been spending the summer at the White Mountains working with his father, has returned to his home in Moosup.

Mail Unclaimed. Unclaimed letters in Moosup post office for the week ending Sept. 13, are addressed to Mr. John Lyons, care Byron Bates, Dr. Henry C. Dixon. Two letters whose addresses were found in the drop box.

Barkhamsted—A large barn of C. N. Le Goy on Washington Hill was struck by lightning and with contents burned. Loss, $2,000; insured for $200.

TALKED ABOUT IN WESTERLY

Robert J. Bowers, Pleasant View Cottage Owner, Dead—Everybody Going to Kingston Fair—Deputy Sheriff F. J. Mitchell Resigns—The Week's Weddings—Schools to Open Oct. 2.

Robert J. Bowers, who has spent several summers at his cottage at Pleasant View, and who was keenly interested in the improvement and development of that shore resort, died Monday at his home in Millville, Mass., from heart and kidney complications, caused by chronic rheumatism. He was born in Lawrence, Mass., July 16, 1871, and moved to Millville, with his parents in 1877 and had made his home there since. He attended the Millville and Blackstone graded schools and graduated from Woonsocket High school. He then entered the Lawrence Feltz company with his father, William J. Bowers, who was founder of the plant and for many years manager. Upon the death of his father he assumed the management and continued in charge until it was acquired by the United States Rubber company in July, 1915, after twenty-five years of service, he resigned on account of impaired health.

Mr. Bowers is survived by his wife, Mrs. Fannie E. Lamphere Bowers, formerly of Westerly, two daughters, Misses Elizabeth and Isabelle Bowers; his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Bowers, three brothers, Michael J., William J., Jr., and Alphonse Bowers, and two sisters, Mrs. T. Buckley, of Millville, and Mrs. John J. McGrath, of Woonsocket.

The annual fair of the Washington County Agricultural society, at Kingston, opened on Tuesday. The attendance on the opening day was as large as usual, and much of the time was engaged in arranging the many exhibits in the various departments. The fair will continue in full working order for the next three days. There is every indication that the fair of 1916 will be fully up to the standard, and will include many added and varied features, while the vaudeville acts are the best ever. There was no racing on Tuesday, but for today two events are announced. A 217 class trot, purse $50, three entries. Jonathan Club stake, 225 class pace, three entries. Today (Wednesday) will be Grange Day at the fair, and for the fourth consecutive year the grangers of the county will compete in a foot parade contest for prizes. Among the entries are the granges of the Westerly, Narragansett, Hope Valley, Exeter, Ashaway, Slocum, Richmond and Quonocontung. Thursday will be Governor's Day, and Friday will be the annual muster of the Rhode Island State Firemen's League. The Westerly Veteran Firemen's Association, 100 Star, is entered in the quilting contest.

Waldo Harrison Stearns, a former Boston lumber dealer, died suddenly Monday night in the Bancroft hotel, Worcester. Mr. Stearns was married in Boston, November 30, 1875, and in 1891 received a divorce from his wife, Elizabeth, who formerly resided in Pawcatuck, sister of Blanche Molinere Scott. Mrs. Stearns had several children and after her marriage made frequent visits here accompanied by her husband. Mr. Stearns was on trial for murder Mr. and Mrs. Stearns suddenly left a New York hotel separately in February, 1899. Mrs. Stearns went to Newport and applied for a divorce, but withdrew the suit. In December, 1901, Mr. Stearns instituted divorce proceedings, alleging misconduct. Two weeks later it was announced that through the two sons a settlement had been effected, and the suit withdrawn. Mrs. Stearns was to renounce her claim to dower right in the large estate of Albert T. Stearns, which her husband had just inherited. Soon after this came the trial of the case at Newport and a verdict of divorce was granted Mr. Stearns, his wife making no defense.

Frederick T. Mitchell, for the past six years an efficient deputy sheriff for Washington county, has placed his resignation with Sheriff John T. Wilcox, to be in effect at once. Mr. Mitchell has not only used discretion and excellent judgment in civil matters, but has also achieved success in several criminal matters and for which he has not received deserved credit. He served notice of his intention to resign on Sheriff Wilcox three months ago, but the sheriff took no action in the hope that Mr. Mitchell would reconsider his proposed action. His successor has not been appointed. Mr. Mitchell is a member of the Westerly police force.

FORMAL REOPENING OF THE CHINESE PARLIAMENT

All Important Officials Attended Without Body Guard and Were Unmolested.

Peking, Sept. 11.—Great simplicity marked the formal reopening, under Li Yuan-hung, of the parliament dissolved three years ago by Yuan Shih-kai.

The new president, all the members of his cabinet with the exception of Tang Shao-yi who has been named minister of foreign affairs, all the foreign advisers and important Chinese officials attended without body guard, and were unmolested.

President Li Yuan-hung and other prominent Chinese wore conventional European morning suits and high hats, which were recognized at the beginning of the republic as the proper garb for official functions.

The house of parliament, a rambling foreign building situated in a great walled garden and approached through long porcolas, was gaily decorated with the five-striped flag of the Chinese republic and bunting of all colors. Thousands of Chinese soldiers dressed in khaki stood at attention along the miles of streets leading from the president's home to the parliament building. Li Yuan-hung rode alone in an automobile from his home and walked unaccompanied from his motorcar to the great hall in which he affirmed his oath as president.

The senate chamber, in which the ceremony took place, is square and has seats arranged in ascending circular tiers after the fashion of legislative halls in western countries. It was crowded with members of parliament and visitors, who greeted the new president with much enthusiasm.

DEUTSCHLAND SCRAP BOOK

A committee headed by George von Skal has been formed to present to the German people a great book containing the newspaper clippings on the voyage of the merchant submarine Deutschland. The book is inscribed in letter of a gold and will be placed in the Royal library in Berlin. It will contain a very large printed concerning the undersea voyage of the Deutschland as well as editorial comment and cartoons. A statement sent out by the committee says that in order to accommodate all that has been printed the book will be about the size of a grand piano, and it was said it is the biggest book in the world. The volume rests on a table supported by two American eagles and two German eagles of silver. Ambassador Bernstorff has endorsed the project.

The oath was not administered to Li Yuan-hung. He merely affirmed by reading the following words: "I hereby declare with all sincerity that I will strictly observe the constitution of the republic and perform my functions as the president of China accordingly." He made the following brief address: "By the cause of the Province, republicanism has now revived in China. On account of the internal strife, reconstructive works should be at once introduced in accordance with the wishes of the Chinese masses. As all the members of the two houses have been specially elected by the people as their representatives who are mostly well-educated and experienced, I, the president, have no doubt that you have already planned concerning the reconstruction of the country and the improvement of the livelihood of the people, and hope that
